Re: Breitburn Energy Partners LP Chapter 11 Docket #16-11390

My wife and I have been involved in the partnership (common/ preferred units) for about two years and have sustained significant monetary loss due to decline in stock value. We have concerns that current managements' actions were not in the best interest of current equity holders and are writing this letter to request an Equity Committee be established.

Breitburn Energy Partners' recent filing showed significant equity in the company: 1.3 billion dollars. Since that filing oil prices have increased to around 50 dollars per barrel. If this number reported inaccurate, we would also request an independent evaluation of the partnership's equity.

Since 2006 the partnership has raised over 4 billion dollars:

DATE	Purpose Common	Units Sold	Price per unit	Total issue value(MLN$)
3-Oct-06	INITIAL PUBLIC OFFER	6900000	18.5	127.65

The most recent guidance from Mr. Washburn was positive without mention of any issues with Breitburn Energy Partner's inability to continue as a going concern.

"We had strong operating and financial results, with production coming in at the high end of our guidance and our capital, operating, and G&A costs performing in line with or better than our guidance... With the continued hard work of our experienced team, we believe we are well-positioned to execute our operating plan successfully again this year."

Management continued to pay dividends on common and preferred units during 2015 and most recently in March of 2016. Management also received bonuses for 2015. This all happened while the partnership sustained losses. These funds could have been used to pay debt and improve liquidity during the low community market.

Distributions totaled 142,690,000 dollars to unit holders

"Net loss attributable to common unitholders was $2.6 billion, or $12.39 per diluted common unit, in 2015"

"On January 28, 2016, Mr. H. Washburn received a 2016 incentive bonus award of $739,127; Mr. Pease received a 2016 incentive bonus award of $360,088; each of Messrs. Brown and Jackson received a 2016 incentive bonus award of $265,327; and Mr. J. Washburn received a 2016 incentive bonus award of $104,472."

We would also request that the 10 million dollars in management bonuses within the last 90 be returned to the partnership. Since they no longer own common units, we feel that this was not given in good faith and would be valuable funds for unit holders.

In conclusion, Breitburn Energy has valuable low depreciation assets that will continue to grow in value as community prices move up. Many analysts project oil to grow through this year and into 2017 due to lack of investment and shortages. We are concerned that the current plan is to reload new equity at a discounted price at the detriments of current equity holders.

Thank you for your consideration,

Evan Meyer
