Hello Judge Bernstein,

I'm writing to you today as a holder of BBEPQ stock.

I find it incredulous that executives and employees are willing to reward themselves with millions of dollars in bonuses and incentives while the shareholders are threatened with losing their investment and/or possible significant tax ramifications.

I have read estimated bonus and payout incentives to be between 10.7 and 33 million dollars. With the current market cap of close to 11 million dollars, I challenge anyone to show me a company that pays bonuses equivalent to 100 - 300% of its current market cap.

As shareholders, we are the owners of the company. If there is equity to be had it should be given to the owners of the company, not the employees. If they wanted their share of the equity, they should have held on to their shares instead of profiting before news of the bankruptcy hit.

I truly feel that an equity committee should be formed comprised of majority shareholders to determine the best way to move forward with our company.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Ken Burtch
